A note for grown-ups

This gentle read-aloud helps little listeners practice a simple morning sequence: wake, wash, tidy, greet. Pause for the motions and let your child say the repeating words with ROB.

ROB is an imaginary story helper. A trusted grown-up is always responsible for real machines.

Read slowly. Pause for pointing, counting, sounds, and wiggles. It is always okay for a little listener to turn the page.

Morning light

Golden light slipped through the door.

ROB's blue eyes blinked on.

Blink, blink. Stretch, stretch.

“Good morning, workshop!” beeped ROB.

Can you stretch up high?

Wash, wash

First came washing.

Rub the front. Rub the back.

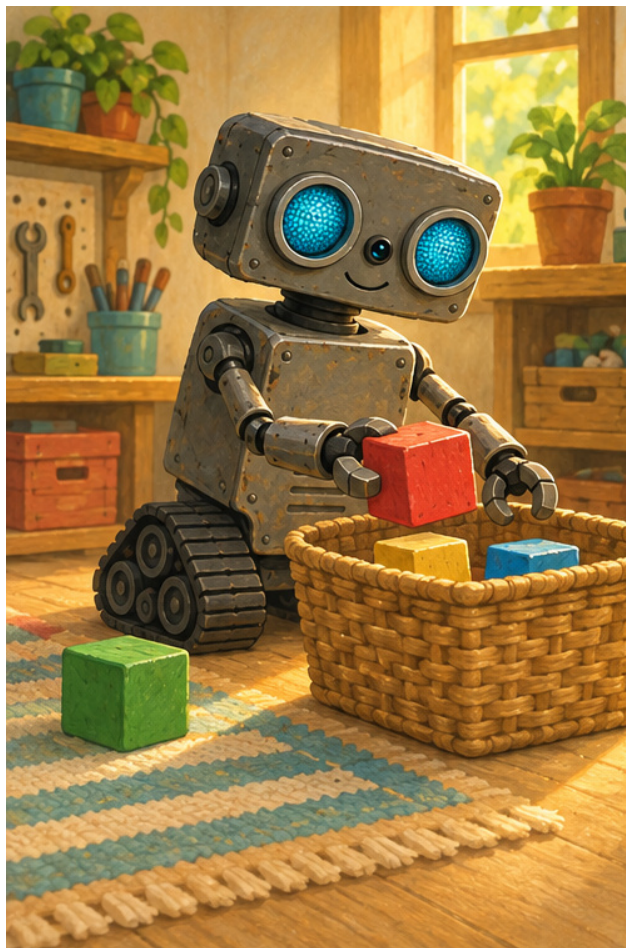

Rinse, rinse, rinse.

Drip, drop—clean!

“Good morning, shiny hands.”

Can you pretend to wash your hands?

Tidy, tidy

Next came tidying.

Red block in.

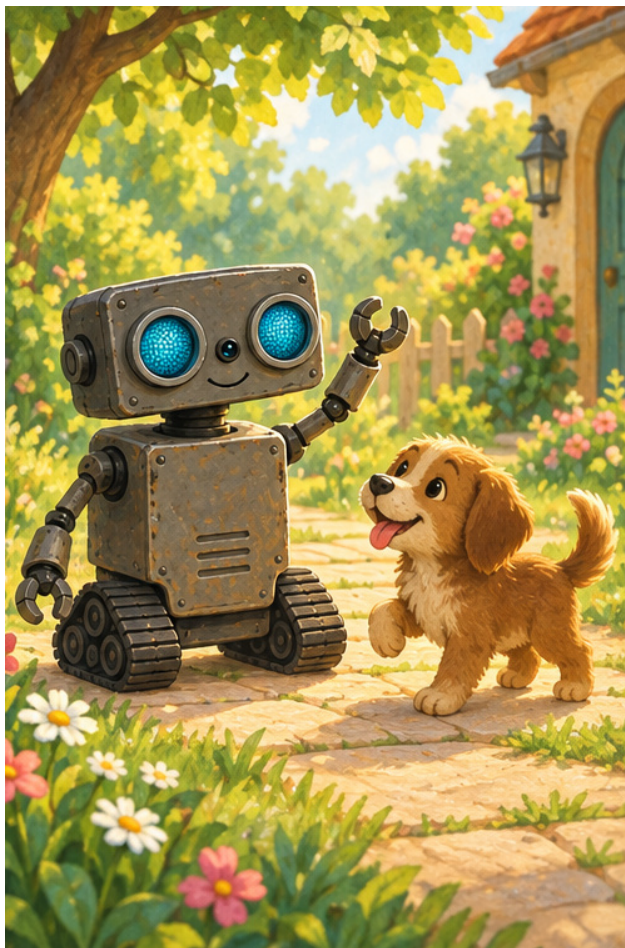

Yellow block in.

Green block in.

Four blocks snug in their basket.

Hello, day

Then ROB rolled outside.

Rumble, rumble—stop.

A puppy bounced down the path.

“Good morning, puppy!”

“Yip, yip!” said the puppy.

Wake. Wash. Tidy. Greet.

ROB was ready for the day.

Talk and move

1. What woke ROB?
2. Pretend to wash your hands.
3. Count the four blocks.
4. Who can you greet this morning?

ROB remembers

WAKE · WASH · TIDY · GREET

One small step at a time makes a happy morning.
