A note for grown-ups

This calm listening story invites children to pause, notice, and identify everyday sounds. Make each sound softly together. Never encourage a child to investigate an unfamiliar sound without a trusted grown-up.

Read slowly. Pause for pointing, counting, sounds, and wiggles. It is always okay for a little listener to turn the page.

Tap, tap

Tap. Tap.

ROB stopped rolling.

“What is that little sound?”

ROB made his body still.

Can you be still, too?

Rain and branch

Drip went the rain.

Tap went the branch.

Swish went the leaves.

Drip. Tap. Swish.

ROB listened again.

Chirp nearby

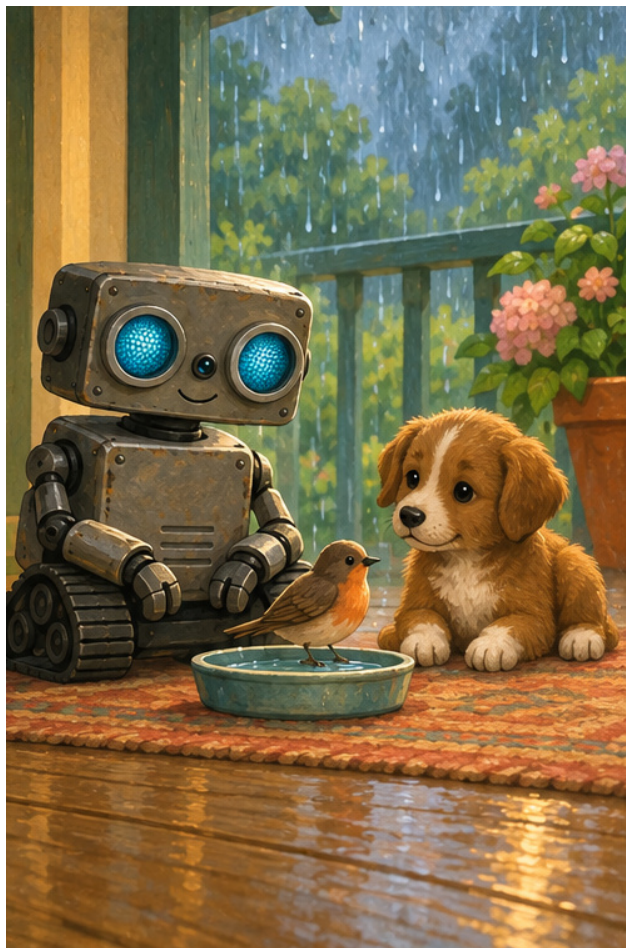

Then came a new sound.

“Chirp, chirp!”

A little bird waited under the dry porch roof.

“Hello, little singer,” said ROB.

Quiet friends

ROB set down a shallow water dish.

The bird sipped. The puppy watched.

Nobody rushed.

Drip. Sip. Chirp.

Three friends listened together.

Listening game

Close your eyes with a grown-up nearby.

What can you hear?

Is it loud or soft? Near or far?

ROB remembers

STOP · BE STILL · LISTEN

A little sound can tell a gentle story.
